

VISITING CLERKSHIP PROGRAM

Diversity and Inclusion at URM

URMC cultivates a diverse and inclusive environment that guides and transforms our approaches to healthcare, education, research and community partnerships.

A limited number of visiting clerkship positions are available at the University of Rochester Medical Center from August through November of 2021 for select applicants from backgrounds underrepresented in medicine (URiM) or who have a demonstrated vision and commitment to improving the health status of diverse patient populations via patient care, research and/or teaching. The visiting clerkship program is designed to give students an opportunity to experience training at URM and to connect with faculty, residents, and 4th year medical students.

- Funding includes up to $1,000 for travel and housing reimbursement.
- Each student will be paired with a faculty member that will serve as a mentor and advisor.
